Scotts Incident Weather Summary

Source: Spot Weather Forecast for Scotts Creek Drainage, 1300-3200 feet elevation, east aspect

Discussion: An upper level low off of the coast will move inland this weekend. This will lack enough moisture for any showers or even limited cloud cover, but will bring a push of cooler marine air. Winds will not be excessively strong with this system but will be gusty in exposed areas in the afternoon. In contrast to Friday, Saturday's winds are expected to be relatively light early and will become West to Northwest in the afternoon, as opposed to southerly. Cooler temperatures and improved RH recoveries will result on Sunday.

Saturday

Sky/Weather. . . . . Sunny with areas of smoke
Max Temperatures. . . . . Around 83
Min Humidities. . . . . 24 percent
Eye level Winds . . . . . Upslope/upvalley 1-3 mph in the morning, then becoming West-Northwest 3-5 in the afternoon.
Surrounding ridge. . . . . North 2-4 mph in the morning then becoming West-Northwest 7-10 mph in the afternoon with a few Gusts to 20 mph.
