33. Life, Safety, and Health Status/Threat Remarks: <hr/> 35. Weather Concerns (synopsis of current and predicted weather; discuss related factors that may cause concern):  RED FLAG WARNING IN EFFECT UNTIL 2 AM MDT THURSDAY FOR THUNDERSTORMS AND GUSTY OUTFLOW WINDS, Showers and thunderstorms will rapidly increase this evening and last through the night. Gusts over 35 mph are expected with stronger storms producing gusts 45-60 mph. There is a very low, but non-zero chance of small hail. Snow levels drop to 8000-9000ft tonight and Thursday but could easily be another 500-1000 feet lower within heavier bands. Light snow accumulations are likely above 8000ft, but more likely confined to the highest peaks and ridges. Isolated thunderstorms are likely throughout the day Thursday.	34. 36. Projected Incident Activity, Potential, Movement, Escalation, or Spread and influencing factors during the next operational period and in 12-, 24-, 48-, and 72-hour time frames:

12 hours: Precipitation and elevated humidity values will limit fire behavior Little to no spread is expected as a result fo these conditions.

24 hours: Drier weather and lower humidity will return to the fire on 09/13/24, though the impacts of the previous day will linger, with elevated fuel moistures in all but the largest size classes and categories. The largest dead and down fuels will not have been impacted by the recent precipitation dn will continue to smolder and consume. These heavy fuels will be the primary producers of smoke and the main source of residual heat.

48 hours: Continued drying and warming will continue to dry fuels, with fuel availability increasing incrementally each day. Within 72 hours spread will still be limited in shaded locations and north slopes, with fine dead and herbaceous fuels becoming available for a short periods in the afternoon when exposed to the sun. Spread will remain limited and opportunities for direct action are expected to persist.

72 hours: After a weekend of drying weather, additional rounds of precipitation are expected early next week. The drying trend over the weekend will result in spread form residual heat sources in fine fuels and herbaceous fuels that are exposed to sunlight. Spread rates and flame lengths will remain below those observed prior to 09/12 throughout the forecast period. Spread will significantly diminish early next week with the arrival of additional precipitation.

Anticipated after 72 hours:

37. Strategic Objectives (define planned end-state for incident):
Provide for firefighter and public safety. Protection of forest timber resources and impact to forest road infrastructures. Impact to the Bighorn Crags campground and recreational users off the 113 road. Limit road impact to Yellowjacket Guard Station.

38. Current Incident Threat Summary and Risk Information in 12-, 24-, 48-, and 72-hour timeframes and beyond. Summarize primary incident threats to life, property, communities and community stability, residences, health care facilities, other critical infrastructure and key resources, commercial facilities, natural and environmental resources, cultural resources, and continuity of operations and/or business. Identify corresponding incident-related potential economic or cascading impacts:                  12 hours: Impact to the FS road 110 and FS road 55, Panther Creek which has private structures                  24 hours: Compromising the 112 road.                  48 hours: Compromising the 113 road.                  72 hours:                  Anticipated after 72 hours:
39. Critical Resource Needs in 12-, 24-, 48-, and 72-hour timeframes and beyond to meet critical incident objectives. List resource category, kind, and/or type, and amount needed, in priority order:                  12 hours: Aerial resources Air attack, 2 Type 1 helicopters, 2 TYPE 1 Crews, 1 Type 2 IA Crew                  24 hours: Aerial resources Air attack, 2 Type 1 helicopters, 2 TYPE 1 Crews, 1 Type 2 IA Crew                  48 hours: Aerial resources Air attack, 2 Type 1 helicopters, 2 TYPE 1 Crews, 1 Type 2 IA Crew                  72 hours:                  Anticipated after 72 hours:
40. Strategic Discussion: Explain the relation of overall strategy, constraints, and current available information to:                  1) critical resource needs identified above,                  2) the Incident Action Plan and management objectives and targets,                  3) anticipated results.                  Explain major problems and concerns such as operational challenges, incident management problems, and social, political, economic, or environmental concerns or impacts.  Due the complexity of a possible burn out operation around structures and private with holdings will make it difficult for mixed tactics without Type 1 crews.
41. Planned Actions for Next Operational Period:  Fire is full suppression utilizing a mix of tactics (direct, indirect, and point protection where the probability of success is high and the risk is commensurate to the values at risk.
42. Projected Final Incident Size/Area (use unit label – e.g., "Acres", "Square Miles"):
43. Anticipated Incident Containment or Completion Date: 10/31/2024
