

WILDFIRE
DEFENSE

GET IN THE ZONE

10 Steps for Wildfire Defense

Reduce your risk of WILDFIRE.

Lyle Cox/The Bulletin

MAKE YOUR HOME A FIREFREE™ ZONE
in just one weekend. Follow the easy

10 Easy Steps

Defense Strategies You Can Use

Common-Sense Approach

Do it in a Weekend

“defensible space” around your home.

Creating a defensible space will not only reduce the intensity and risk of wildfire, but will give firefighters an area to work in if fire does strike. It's fast. It's simple.

And it's everyone's responsibility.

For more FireFree information, call (541) 385-6679.

Note: The information in this video is intended to help you reduce the risk that your home might be damaged in a wildfire. Although taking some or all of the steps described in the video should reduce the risk of loss or damage, you should remember that fire is an unpredictable force and there is no way either to eliminate the risks it presents or to completely protect your property.

Sponsored by SAFECO Corporation in partnership with the Bend Fire Department and Deschutes County Rural Fire Protection District #2.